MORE BALLOTING.

RESULT OF THE FOURTH AND FIFTH CAST OF VOTE.

DEPEW AND M'KINLEY WITHDRAW FROM THE CONTEST.

The Former Gives as His Reason His Instructions for the Ohio Senator—Sherman Loses Several Votes in the Fifth Ballot—Harrison Ditto—A Recess Taken. Depew's Prediction.

FRIDAY'S EVENING SESSION.

CHICAGO, June 23.—As usual, delegates and spectators were on hand early this morning. The feeling of earnest anxiety was more intense, if possible, than heretofore.

Delegates remained at their various meeting rooms and headquarters to the last moment struggling with efforts at combinations and accessions in which each hoped to benefit his favorite or in some way himself.

The effort to secure admission to the convention was something amazing. Probably not more than one out of every fifty of the people who came here to attend the sessions have seen inside of the walls of the auditorium, while not one out of a hundred of the Chicago people who desired to do so have been able to gain admission.

Delegates were busy during the recess yesterday afternoon trying to do something to further the interests of their respective candidates. Efforts to effect the various combinations were made. The auditorium was oppressively warm, and, regardless of appearances, many removed their coats and vests.

The convention was called to order at 7:15 p. m. by Chairman Estes.

The band played a number of popular airs and as it ceased playing, Chauncey M. Depew advanced to the platform and in a graceful speech withdrew his name. He stated that the reason he withdrew was the fear that his business as a railroad man might injure the interests of the party and give the victory to the enemy.

Gen. Hastings then moved an adjournment until this morning. Several gentlemen seconded his motion, and it carried. A poll of the New York delegation was demanded, and ten of them voted for the motion to adjourn. As soon as the motion was declared carried, the audience, who had expected balloting to be resumed, shouted vigorously for Ingersoll.

His speech was brilliant and well received until he espoused the cause of Gresham. Then a scene of confusion ensued, during which people wildly shouted their favorites' names and the California delegation hoisted a large banner bearing the words, "Blaine and Protection." Ingersoll then sat down and the recitation of "Sheridan's Ride" by Charles R. Pope, the veteran St. Louis actor, and a short address by Mr. Fitch followed, during which the confusion was great. Everybody left and the great hall was soon quiet, dark and empty.

A reporter called on Col. Ingersoll at the hotel last night, and asked: "Were you through with your speech when the uproar broke out?"

"Certainly. I had said all that I intended and all that I desired."

"Some people say that you ought not to have mentioned the name of Gresham in your speech."

"That's nonsense. The convention had adjourned, it was a mass meeting and I was expressly invited to speak. Of course it was perfectly proper for me to tell the audience whom I am for. If I had been invited to address the convention that would have been another thing. I am for Gresham and said so. I always express my opinion. I said nothing against any candidate. I simply expressed the hope that Gresham might be nominated. If any one objected to that it is because he is for some body else."

Ten thousand persons, most of them sweltering under the fierce rays of a bright June sun, stood in proximity to the auditorium building all day. The women, with their gay parasols and cool raincoats, talked politics on the corners. Every one was in the fever of political excitement.

The police, the brand-new blue-coated arms of the law, repelled and insulted all applicants for admission to the convention hall. These very verdant and officious officials, whose commissions they held in their hands and read at least twenty times an hour, were no respecter of persons. Mr. Mahone of Virginia, was held up by a blue coat and compelled to establish his identity before he could enter the sacred precincts guarded by the new officers.

Women led by curiosity to peer in at the portals were roughly seized by the blue coats and thrust into the street. One old policeman who for many years has walked his beat without even raising his baton, said that the brutality displayed by the new officers about the convention hall was an outrage that would lead to serious trouble if continued.

The big bulletin board fronting on Wabash avenue attracted immense crowds. It was a Gresham crowd, and when the first vote showed the Illinois man to be second in choice a yell went up that fairly paralyzed the boomers of other candidates.

When the result of the second ballot appeared upon the board, showing that Gresham's strength had fallen off two votes and that Blaine had gained five, which now filled the street and made the cable cars stop until the police cleared the way, sent up a mighty yell, heard even in the hall. As soon as the demonstration began a man stuck his head out from the unfinished portion of the building and yelled: "What's the matter with Jimmy Blaine?" Then the crowd broke forth again, and the cheering for the Plumed Knight was renewed, and lasted for fully five minutes.

The announcement of the third ballot showing a gain for Alger, Gresham and Blaine, set the crowd crazy again, and every body howled for his favorite. It was a remarkable as well as a chaotic scene. Men threw their hats in the air and yelled like demons. Some of the elder ones embraced, and two or three small fights were engaged in. It was a scene never to be forgotten.

SATURDAY'S SESSION.

CHICAGO, June 23.—In and around the auditorium from an early hour this morning the scenes were those of yesterday and Thursday and the day before. There were the same maddening crowds, the same frantic efforts of the delegates and ticketholders to reach the turnstiles, and the same throwing up of barricades of ladders and wagons, and cordons of rope in the effort to keep back the multitude. The queen's English would needs perforce be twisted and turned to find new phrases in which to describe the opening scenes of the day.

It was not until 10:30 that quiet was finally secured, and Senator Warner Miller was introduced by Mr. Bates as the presiding officer of the day. By this time every delegate was in his place.

Bishop Fellows was introduced at 10:32. He folded his arms, closed his eyes, and fervently prayed for blessings upon the convention, country—east and west, north and south—securing equal justice to all, that peace and prosperity may be enjoyed. He asked that, in this critical hour in the proceedings of the convention, the supreme wisdom of the Almighty be given to the convention that the delegates may be saved from error and prejudice, and that the candidates be clean-handed. The eloquent divine concluded by repeating the Lord's prayer, and there was a general response of "Amen!" As he resumed his seat the band played "America."

The balloting was then begun. The vote was completed at 11:30, and resulted as follows: Alger 135, Allison 88, Gresham 98, Lincoln 1, Foraker 1, Harrison 17, Blaine 42, Sherman 236, McKinley 11, Douglass 1, Mr. McKinley with his name before the fourth ballot.

The fifth ballot was completed at 11:56 and resulted as follows: Blaine 48, Alger 142, Allison 99, Harrison 213, Gresham 87, Sherman 234, McKinley 14.

At the conclusion of the fifth ballot, ex-Governor Foster, of Ohio, moved to adjourn till 4 p. m. It was seconded by Duffield, of Michigan, and a call of states was made to determine the question.

Every state down to Louisiana voted to take a recess with the exception of Alabama, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky. The latter split and gave twenty-four against the motion. When New Jersey was reached, Mr. Sewell, of New Jersey, asked that the roll call be suspended and that a recess be taken by acclamation. Carried.

There seems to be a notion afloat that the full vote of delegations were recorded. This is not so. If delegates were not in their seats and their alternates had not replaced them in regular form, the vote of the delegations thus situated were reduced by the circumstances mentioned.

Depew's Prophecy.

CHICAGO, June 23.—The Mail this afternoon, says: Chauncey M. Depew has just stated that Blaine will be nominated this afternoon. Mr. Depew said that the deal had been arranged, and would be consummated without a hitch.

FREDDY AND HIS LILY

To Wed Just as Soon as the Much Desired Divorce is Procured.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The marriage of Frederick Gebhardt and Mrs. Langtry will take place in September. They have long been betrothed, but Mrs. Langtry will not much before the time mentioned be legally free from her present husband. That has been the only reason why Gebhardt and the beautiful actress have not been wedded long ere this. Her husband refused several offers, made through the firm of Howe & Hummel, of a portion of her wealth if he would consent to a separation.

He declined all these propositions and took good care that she should not have the only ground valid in the state of New York on which to obtain a divorce. He is now a hotel keeper at an English seaside resort, and it is five years since he and his wife met. At length, Mrs. Langtry, while in San Francisco last year, acquired real estate there and made the city her legal residence. That now enables her to put forward a suit for divorce, and this will to a certainty make her a free woman in August.

Mrs. Langtry is rich. It is believed that besides living very expensively she has accumulated as much as $500,000. Gebhardt draws an income of $25,000 a year from his deceased father's estate.

Suicide at a Funeral.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 25.—Friday afternoon while S. H. Hall, of Trundle's Cross-roads, Sevier county, was going to bury a child, his twenty-year-old son left the funeral procession and blew his brains out with a pistol without a word of warning.

GERMANY'S YOUNG RULER

HAS CONVINCED EUROPE THAT HE IS NO MERE PUPPET,

And That He Cannot be Influenced By Others—The English Home Defense Scare Causes the British Admiralty to Hustle Things—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, June 25.—Amid all the estimates, both favorable and adverse, of the character of William II. a feeling had obtained in Europe that Emperor Frederick's death would cause no important change in the policy of the German empire. Allowing for the different characters of the two men, clever thinkers had pondered over the situation and agreed that although they would be a new occupant on the throne, that Bismarck would continue to shape the policy of Germany, and it was considered that his voice was for peace.

It is hardly to be supposed that the then crown prince read all the comfortable prophecies of the wise men of Europe, but it would seem as though he took a malicious pleasure in stultifying their predictions. The breath was scarcely out of his father's body before he issued an army address that set a thrill of fear through Europe. If he meant to make it known once for all that he is no mere puppet to be manipulated by others, he has gained his end, and his strong individuality will cause his every word and action to be studied in the future by uneasy statesmen in every party of Europe.

The world could hardly show a greater contrast than that between this brilliant emperor at the head of the best discipline army of modern times, and a half-starved peasant of Tipperary, and yet the utterances of the former are not without influence upon the rack rented Irish cottier.

If there should be a war, England will be involved sooner or later, and the change that will be inevitable then in her home affairs, must effect the poorest of her subjects. England will, perhaps, see the necessity then of making some of the concessions asked for Ireland, and Ireland forgetting hereditary grievances, would be of great assistance to England.

Without a settlement of the all important question of the tenure of land, the latter could hardly hope for Ireland's aid. Thus a war might bring about a better state of things in the sister island. If any one had, twenty years ago, predicted that Ireland's struggle for Home Rule would be aided by a Hohenzollern, he would have been regarded as a lunatic, but in the light of recent events and future possibilities, this seems probable.

The Home Defense Scare.

LONDON, June 25.—Our home defense scare is about over as a sensation, but it has had the effect of stimulating the admiralty to extraordinary efforts to place our coast defenses and coaling stations in such a condition as to release our navy from guard duty and render it efficiently offensive. This will doubtless be effected during this summer and fall, for the conviction is universal that not later than next spring Europe will pass through the ordeal of a war which England will not be able to avoid, although on Wednesday, at a meeting of the German bundersrath, Bismarck remarked upon the peaceful character of the present political situation, yet it is noticeable that on Friday the Austro-Hungarian delegations voted a war credit of 47,000,000 florins, and that the French senate approved a credit of 37,500,000 francs for artillery and engineer service.

It is remembered also that the ink is scarcely dry on Russia's vouchers for a large French loan for war purposes. Moreover, she has lately demanded of Turkey the payment of her overdue instalments on her war indemnity, amounting to about $3,000,000. The demand was made because Turkey was about to effect a war loan also, the object being to prevent the loan and all effective armament by Turkey, which it did. Yet Friday the Moscow press censor ordered editors to abstain from writing alarming articles on the European situation. It is now generally understood that peace is solely the result of Russia's unreadiness this spring, and that Bismarck's prediction in his speech of February last that there would be no war before 1890, because Russia was not ready, was made with a full knowledge of the state of Russia's preparation.

Pasteur's Rabbit Destroyer a Failure.

LONDON, June 25.—The South Australian Register contains an account of some experiments at Sydney with M. Pasteur's microbes of chicken cholera. A number of rabbits were inoculated with the microbes on a Saturday morning and placed under close supervision in isolated boxes; but on Monday the rabbits had not shown the slightest traces of the disease, which, according to M. Pasteur, should prove fatal in about twenty-four hours. The experiments were not regarded as fatal. Microbes may be strengthened by cultivation; but that will be a matter of time.

The Duc d'Aumale Must Stay.

PARIS, June 25.—The government have decided that it would be impolitic to grant the petition of the French institute, and rescind the decree of expulsion against the Duc d'Aumale.

Foreign Notes.

The Osservatore Romano, referring to Premier Crispien's policy as intended to force the pope to leave Italy, says it will have that result if persevered in.

The National Zeitung announces that the coronation of the emperor and empress as king and queen of Prussia will take place at Koenigsberg in the autumn.

Advices received at Khartoum report the arrival in the Bahr El Ghazel province of a white pasha with a very large force. The news has greatly disturbed the mahdi.

The Enin Bay relief committee, of London, says that, in view of facts in their possession, they place no reliance on pessimist reports concerning the Stanley expedition.

Mr. Gladstone will make a test of the Liberal strength against the Tories on the crimes act, on Mr. Morley's resolution, declaring that the operation and administration of the law, strange to the minds of the people of Ireland, and deeply injure the common interests of the united kingdom. It is regarded as a government crisis.

THE CINCINNATI CENTENNIAL.

Preparations for the Opening Nearing the Completion.

CINCINNATI, June 25.—The exposition buildings present a busy scene to the crowds of people who are taking a preliminary look at the gigantic spectacle that is to open on the Fourth of July. The walls reverberate with the sound of hammers and saw and the whirl of swift flying wheels. For the next ten days this will continue, and by that time nearly everything will be in shape. Already the bare floors are almost hidden by platforms and sections of exhibits.

The home exhibitors are distinguishing themselves, and there is no doubt that all their displays will be complete by the time for opening. In the Washington Park hall the evidences of progress are most tangible. The walls and ceilings are hung with draperies. The exhibits are going up on every side. The 1st of July will see it completely filled. The only danger is in the government exhibits, which are to occupy the additions now building. It is feared that these can not be completed in time, although a large force of men is at work pushing things as fast as possible.

Horticultural hall will be finished by the middle of the week. The flowers and trees and rocks are almost all in place. The arrangements for illumination are also ready. In machinery hall much remains to be done. Although it looks barren and incomplete, yet most of the heavy and tedious work, such as the building of masonry, is complete, and the setting up of the machinery has been begun. The exhibitors in this department have been the most dilatory of all.

The art department is entirely finished, ready for the throngs. This is the most remarkable fact that has yet been stated. Usually the people on opening day go into the art department to stare at empty walls. But the art committee has hustled and as a result its work is done, and $50,000 worth of pictures are ready for the gaze of multitudes.

The police arrangements are completing rapidly also. Chief Hazen is working hard and his force of 140 men ready. They will be uniformed, as will also the fifty janitors who are expected to keep things clean. Fire boxes have been put in all over the buildings, and also numerous fire plugs, while the exposition fire department with its engine patrols the canal.

The Ohio state exhibit is already interesting. It will be ready by the middle of the week, and will form a most attractive feature of the exhibition. On the outside the colored globes in the long lines of pipes and arches are being being put in, and already the passerby can get an idea of the splendor of the scene on the first night.

Assistant Secretary Grose was found standing in the midst of the work. Said he: "We will be ready. The work is so far advanced that the doors will be closed against the public next Thursday. By the way, I wish you would warn the lodging house keepers against the who are collecting money from them in our name. We charge nothing for the services of the bureau of information and any money collected is collected fraudulently."

HEAT IN NEW YORK CITY.

It Tells the Death Rate to an Alarming Extent—The Hottest in Seventeen Years.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Up to 12:30 p. m. six sudden deaths, said to be due to the heat, were reported at police headquarters. Five persons were prostrated by the heat and taken to the hospital, while another was sent to the insane hospital.

At 1:30 p. m. one more death and three more prostrations from heat were reported. The sudden hot spell is playing havoc in the tenement house districts, and is sending the death rate relatively as high as the mercury goes in the thermometer.

There were 311 deaths in the city during the past week, as against 680 the week before. The increase is directly due to the heat, nine-tenths of the increase being from the crowded tenements.

This is the hottest June on record. The highest temperature in June in seventeen years was 94 degrees on the 30th, in 1871, and the lowest was 60 degrees on June 10, 1878.

To-day at noon it was 96 degrees, with the probability of it going to 100 by 3 p. m.

What makes the heat so intolerable is the humidity. The percentage this morning was 81. It ought to be about 45 in order to counteract the effects of the heat.

TERRIBLE DISASTER.

Flood in Mexico Causes the Loss of Over a Thousand Lives.

ZACATECAS, Mex., June 25.—The worst flood ever known in the history of Mexico occurred on the night of Tuesday, the 19th. The rain started at 5 p. m. and continued all night and all next day. The latest advices from Zelos report five hundred houses swept away and a great number of lives lost, while at Leon the next city in size to the capital, one thousand bodies have been recovered up to 6 p. m. One mile square in the heart of the city is gorged, while every hour brings to light new horrors.

At Lagos, about forty miles north of Leon, the loss of life and property is nearly equally as terrible as at Leon.

Many people and cattle being swept away in the rushing waters, mines filled with water and miners trying to escape, drowned. The country from Celaya to Lagos is one immense sea, while the railroad is in a deplorable condition. Hundreds of families are homeless at all points, and many are starving. Crops are ruined. There is no telegraphic communication or by the railroad to the City of Mexico, and it is still raining over the entire republic.

Took Great Chances.

PITTSBURGH, June 25.—W. F. King was convicted at Williamsport, on Monday, of robbing a postoffice in Lackawanna county. On Thursday morning he was started for the penitentiary in this city, in charge of a United States officer. When the train was near Latrobe, King, under a plea of getting a drink of water, escaped from his custodian, and leaped from the train, which was running at full speed. The train was stopped, but no trace of King could be found.

Hottest Day of the Season.

BOSTON, June 25.—This has been the hottest day of the season here. The thermometer at noon registered 94 degrees. Three cases of sunstroke were reported to the police up to noon.

GROVER CLEVELAND,

ALLAN G. THURMAN,

AUGUST ELECTION, 1888.
For Sheriff,
JOHN W. ALEXANDER.

Plain Talk.

The Louisville Courier-Journal sizes up the Republican platform in language that is not to be mistaken. "It is the very desperation of impudence," says our esteemed contemporary. "It is the brazen effrontery of the most irresponsible mendacity. Its authors evidently think that the country is a political game preserve, and, having converted the once grand old party into a bird of prey, they flap its wings and prepare to swoop down upon the field below in all the glory of plumage stolen from the national eagle, little dreaming how, when they get there, the disguise shall be stripped from their mock eagle and the cheat exposed; and how, in place of the proud bird of liberty, there shall stand in stark and shivering nakedness the lank turkey-buzzard of fraud and greed, scorned of gods and detested of men."

"There is nothing dangerous, or even imposing here. All is trick, fustian and false pretense. No matter what ticket they now nominate, the rickety fabric of this rotten platform will sink beneath it and leave it sprawling in the ditch."

The August election promises to be as quiet as a midnight graveyard.

PREACHERS' sons don't always turn out badly. Cleveland and Thurman are both sons of ministers of the gospel.

HON. JOHN D. YOUNG, ex-railroad Commissioner will enter the race for Congress from the Ninth district.—Georgetown (Ky.) News-Enterprise.

HON. THOMAS C. JONES, United States Minister to Funchal, Madeira Islands, has returned to his old Kentucky home, and it is rumored he wants to be Clerk of Court of Appeals once more.

MRS. LOGAN weeps for Alger, but if Columbia is to drop a tear over every one of the busted booms that will litter the street of Chicago before to-morrow night, she will, indeed, stand the Niobe of Nations until it dissolves into brine.—Louisville Times.

JUDGE WILLIAM F. OWSLEY, the oldest brother of Judge Mike Owsley, has been nominated by the Prohibitionists of the Third District for Congress. He is a capable man, has always been a staunch Democrat and attended the Convention at Lexington as a delegate.—Reporter.

A PROMINENT Democrat said yesterday to the BULLETIN that he was much in favor of the Ninth district tendering the Congressional nomination to Hon. John G. Carlisle. Further inquiry developed the fact that Mr. Carlisle's name was being discussed considerably by some of our local politicians.

SENATOR INGALLS who commenced the campaign upon the bloody shirt plan by calling McClellan and Hancock traitors, says "the Republicans must fight the coming campaign under the bloody shirt, and should it fail to win the impending fight, the future historian can write its history and attach the word 'finis' to the end of the volume, for the Republicans, after defeat, would no longer be an organization."

It is the opinion of the Washington Post (Dem.) that "President Cleveland has a hold upon the great middle class of the country which is entirely unique in American history. The masses—the farmer, the mechanic, the small tradesman, the skilled laborers, the toilers of the sea—in every case where they are not blinded by partisan prejudice, are for him to a man. They love him because he seems one of them—because, though the creation of politics, he has no use for politicians, and is in all things the President of the people."

It may be of interest at this time to give the ages of Presidents at the time of their election. Washington was sixty-seven; John Adams, sixty-two; Thomas Jefferson, fifty-eight; James Madison, fifty-eight; James Monroe, fifty-nine; John Quincy Adams, fifty-eight; Andrew Jackson, sixty-two; Martin Van Buren, fifty-five; Harrison, sixty-eight; Tyler was fifty-one March 29, 1841, and became President April 4, 1841; Polk was forty-nine years old November 2, 1844 and became President the next March; Taylor was sixty-five; Fillmore, fifty; Pierce, forty-nine; Buchanan, sixty-six; Lincoln, fifty-two; Johnson, fifty-seven; Grant, forty-seven; Hayes, fifty-five.

Tariff Reform Not Free Trade.

Our neighbor the Daily Republican says tariff reform is "free trade" according to the BULLETIN's definition of it. Well "the BULLETIN's definition" of tariff reform does not differ from the definition given by the Democracy of the country, and that definition does not make it free trade by a long ways. All this talk about free trade is, we persist, gotten up by Republicans as a scare-crow to frighten the voters. The Republican leaders are not so blinded but that they realize how desperate the present political situation is to them. They see defeat staring them in the face, at the polls next November, and they realize further that defeat then means death and dissolution for the o. p. Hence they have hit upon the cry of free trade as the only thing available for winning votes in the present crisis, and their organs are industriously shouting it from the house tops. Four years ago their cry was that a Democratic administration meant ruin to the business interests of the country. We have had Cleveland four years and business is as good as ever. Their cry then was false and was gotten up to frighten the people, but it didn't work. Now they are engaged at their old tricks.

But about this question of tariff reform and free trade there are some Republicans who have a correct view of the situation and are not afraid to speak their sentiments. For instance read what the Philadelphia Telegraph (Republican) says:

"A reduced tariff is not free trade, is nothing like free trade, and it is a reduced tariff which the country wants. The Republican party fully recognized that in 1884, and it can not with safety refuse to recognize it now, as in four years the common demand for it has enormously grown. The free trade spirit has not grown at all; but the wish for lower duties grows daily, and largely because of the generally perceived fact that excessive duties are enabling a comparatively small class to monopolize the control, fix the prices of the necessities of life, and to levy a tribute upon the whole people. For four years the Republican party has refused to fulfill its pledge made to the country to revise the tariff and reduce the surplus. This refusal has not strengthened but weakened it, and it dare not, if it would have a single hope of success in November of this year, juggle with the tariff question. It must make its deliverance plain upon it. The Democrats have made it, at least, clear that they propose to reduce excessive duties; and by their votes in Congress they have proved their sincerity. The Republicans can do no less. They can not hope to defeat their opponents by crying out 'free trade!' against them; that cry will deceive no one. They can not win by an endorsement of their own long continued policy of obstruction or of the tariff as it is. They must take decisive ground, and in the direction of making all duties no higher than rigorous protection to American capital and labor demands. Anything above or beyond that simply breeds monopolistic combinations and trusts, and enables the Carnegie class of employers to amass an enormous fortune yearly by maintaining high prices for their products while paying the lowest price for labor."

William Allen's Definition of Democracy.

"Democracy is a sentiment not to be appalled, corrupted, or compromised. It knows no baseness; it cowers to no danger; it oppresses no weakness. Fearless, generous and humane, it rebukes the arrogant, cherishes honor, and sympathizes with the humble. It asks nothing but what it demands. Destructive only of despotism, it is the sole conservatory of liberty, labor and property. It is the sentiment of freedom, of equal rights and equal obligations. It is the law of nature pervading the land. The stupid, the selfish, the base in spirit may denounce it as a vulgar thing; but in the history of our race, the Democratic principle has developed and illustrated the highest moral and intellectual attributes of our nature. It is a noble, a sublime sentiment which expands our affections, enlarges the circle of our sympathies, and elevates the soul of man, until claiming an equality with the best, it rejects as unworthy of its dignity and political immunities over the humblest of his fellows. Yes, it is an ennobling principle; and may that spirit which animated our revolutionary fathers in their contest for establishment, continue to animate us, their sons, in the impending struggle for its preservation."

AND the reports from California are bright and encouraging to Democrats. Speaking of the outlook, the San Francisco Examiner says: "The mass of the California Democracy honors President Cleveland as highly as it can honor any man, but it is no disparagement to him to say that the name of Thurman will draw to the ticket 5,000 floating votes which could be attracted by no other name whatever."

Peacock Coal.

To Whom It May Concern: This is to certify that Mr. William Wormald has secured the exclusive sale for Maysville, Ky., of the genuine Peacock coal, mined from the original and only Peacock mine. All other dealers claiming to sell the same are impostors and misrepresent the truth. Respectfully,

PEACOCK COAL COMPANY.

A CALL FOR ORGANIZATION

Issued by the Democratic State Central Committee.

HEADQUARTERS DEM. STATE CENTRAL COM.,
LEXINGTON, KY., June 21, 1888.
To the Democrats of Kentucky: At a meeting of the State Central Committee held in this city on the 19th instant, a resolution was adopted recommending the organization of Democratic clubs all over the State, and also a resolution recommending the call of a convention of Democratic clubs, to meet in the city of Louisville June 28th at 11 o'clock, a. m., for the purpose of forming a State League and selecting delegates at large to the National Convention of Democratic clubs which meets in Baltimore on the 4th of July next. In pursuance of said first resolution I now call upon the Democrats all over the State to proceed immediately to the organization of at least one club in each county in the State, and in pursuance of said second resolution I hereby call a convention of Democratic clubs to meet in the city of Louisville at the time mentioned above, and also a grand mass meeting of the Democrats of the State to ratify the nomination of Cleveland and Thurman, to be held at 8 o'clock in the evening of the above date in the city of Louisville.

All Democratic clubs now existing, or which may be organized before that date, are entitled to send not less than five delegates, and all members of clubs are invited. A number of distinguished speakers will be on hand at the ratification meeting in the evening.
M. C. ALFORD,
Ch'm Democratic State Central Committee.

REV. W. S. PRIEST went to Lexington this morning.

DR. SMOOT returned this morning from a trip to Carlisle.

A FULL assortment of fresh groceries at Hancock's, cheap.

NEW honey—California peaches, 12¢ cents, at Calhoun's.

THE farmers of the county are in the midst of a very fair harvest.

THE July term of the Mason Circuit Court will have a light docket.

C. B. WILLIAMS, of Lexington, spent Sunday in this city, returning home this morning.

DEKALB LODGE No. 12, I. O. O. F., will elect officers for the ensuing term tomorrow night.

SUBSCRIPTIONS to the banner for Canton No. 2 can be paid to Harry S. Wood Wednesday, June 27.

THE steamer Reliance will take the place of the Handy No. 2 in the Maysville and Vanceburg trade.

SALLER & SALLER will give prompt attention to collections and a general law practice in civil business.

THE campaign hat is a dark brown beaver, with handsome steel engravings of Cleveland and Thurman.

J. FLETCHER GRIMES spent Saturday and Sunday at Carlisle and Sharpsburg, returning home this morning.

A PICKED nine defeated the Athletic ball club in a nine inning game on Saturday afternoon, by a score of 11 to 14.

THE railroad syndicate of which the Maysville and Big Sandy is a part is having 5,000 cars constructed at Dayton.

THE Democrats of Bourbon will hold a rousing meeting next Saturday at Paris to organize a Cleveland and Thurman Club

THREE construction trains are doing service on the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad between Riverton and Vanceburg.

CIRCUIT CLERK BEN D. PARRY was in San Francisco last week on a pleasure tour. He will return in time for his July court.

THE BULLETIN is indebted to Dr. Robert N. Taylor, of Tollesboro, for a copy of his article entitled "An Inquiry Into the Doctrine of Protection."

THE suits against the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad at Vanceburg have been set for hearing to-morrow. The cases involve some nice legal points.

It looks like Maysville will get the coming Congressional convention. It is a long time since Maysville had one and the delegates can rest assured of a cordial reception.

BOURBON CANTON of Oddfellows of Paris have prepared handsome gold medals for presentation to Chevaliers R. G. Elliott and Claude Buckley, of Lexington, for drilling them.

THE South Shore Railroad will be opened on July 1st. At that time trains will run from Ashland to Augusta, Ky., twenty miles below Maysville.—Portsmouth Times

THE Athletic ball club will cross bats with the Manchesters on the latter grounds next Tuesday. The steamer Katie Prather will carry passengers at 40 cents the round trip.

WITH cattle commanding fair prices, wheat inclined upward, and tobacco in demand, the farmers would be satisfied if it would only rain enough to set tobacco plants. It has rained.

REMEMBER the lecture at the court house next Thursday night on "Fools," by Dr. Henson, of Chicago. The Doctor enjoys the reputation of being one of the wittiest speakers of this country.

MARSHAL W. B. DAWSON returned yesterday morning from Ghent, Ky., with his prisoner John Jones, who was charged with stealing tobacco plants near Springdale a few days since. Jones had his trial before Squire Grant this morning and was discharged.

THE examining trial of Chas. Moore, Wilson Hughes and John Weaver at Orangeburg Saturday, before Squire Collis, resulted in each being held over to the Circuit Court. Their bond was fixed at $200, and promptly given. They were charged with unlawfully taking and carrying away property of another. The property taken was tobacco plants.

SUNDAY BLAZE AT PARIS.

A Business House and Residence Destroyed, Entailing a Loss of $10,000.

A special from Paris says a destructive fire visited that city at 3 p. m. yesterday. The flames destroyed R. B. Hutchcraft's frame warehouse filled with hemp and blue grass seed. Building valued at $1,500. Insurance, $500.

The fire also burned the two-story brick residence occupied by Prof. Pratt, Principal of the Paris City Schools. Insurance, $1,500.

The large brick warehouse owned by Spears & Stewart was destroyed, valued at $1,000.

The large water tank used for street sprinkling purposes, was also destroyed.

The origin of the fire is unknown, as no one had been in the building where it started for the past twenty-four hours.

As this is a good season for fires it would be well for our home people to carefully inspect their premises.

LATER.—The damage sustained by Mr. Hutchcraft amounts to about $7,000. His loss is pretty well covered by insurance. Judge Turney's loss is estimated at $3,000; insurance $1,500. This building was occupied by Professor Pratt.

The business house of Wm. Tarr adjoining the above was considerably damaged. It was occupied by Spears & Stewart.

Some attribute the fire to spontaneous combustion in a lot of hemp.

Stock, Field and Farm.

The Winchester Democrat says: "Abner Renick gathered 42 bushels of blue-grass seed per acre from twenty-five acres and sold it for 25 cents per bushel.

Mr. Morris representing the Armour Packing Company of Chicago, has bought 1,600 cattle in Bourbon, Clarke and Fayette, in the last ten days at 5 to 5½.

From Mr. Lucas Broadhead, the manager at "Woodburn Stock Farm," it is learned that Miss Russell, the dam of Maud S. and Nutwood, has foaled a bay filly by Electioneer. Such an illustrious pedigree will make the filly run away up in the thousands in value.

He doesn't think, as he rides over his broad acres, or tramps across his five acre lot where the garden truck is puny and withered, that he is in a great measure to blame, and holds within his power the means to lesson and to cure the evil; if not within his span of life, yet so that his children and heirs, if future generations be wise, may enjoy fertile fields and cool shades, and remembering him, call him a blessed benefactor.—Covington Commonwealth.

Says the Bourbon News: "Colonel W. W. Baldwin passed through here for Lexington, last week. He says that they are suffering badly for rain in Mason, and that they are not near through setting out their tobacco. He thinks there will be a very small crop raised this year. In Bourbon the acreage will also fall short. Near Millersburg, W. L. Gibson intended putting out 35 acres; so far he has put out but a little over five acres. We give this as a slight index. Many who set out from 10 to 12 acres, lost at least half their plants from worms and dry weather."

The Covington Commonwealth gives some timely advice in the following, and it will be well for farmers to read carefully what it says. Referring to the drought, our valued contemporary remarks:

The wilful, reckless and shortsighted policy in the country to-day is to cut down the forests and make clearings and add another to the already too numerous wheat and corn fields or tobacco beds. The result undoubtedly is that with the cutting away of the forests there is a consequent diminution of the rainfall and drying up in the earth of the particles which make it fertile and productive. This has been practically demonstrated over and over again. No where so thoroughly as on the once arid prairies in many portions of Kansas, which being planted with trees, have become productive from rainfall, a thing almost unknown before the planting of the forests.

In addition, there is nothing which is more wasteful, more productive of financial loss than the wanton cutting down of trees which play a part so necessary in the economy of nature. Nor is there anything which adds greater beauty to a country than vigorous woodlands, which protect the crops, and furnish grateful shade to man and to animals. Plant trees along the pikes and the country roads. Place them along private avenues and on the hill sides now gaping in the sun. Plant trees in your meadows, and have no doubt of the beneficial result.

Personal.

Miss Mamie Letton, of Bourbon County, is the guest of Miss Julia Worthington at Fern Leaf.

Mrs. Duke Watson and daughters, Maggie Duke and Willie, and Mrs. Alice Dallas are at Blue Lick Springs.

Miss Fannie Bierbower, of Maysville, is visiting the family of Mr. Smith Grimes, of this place.—People's Defender, West Union, O.

Dr. Sam Worthington, of Versailles, came down on the train this morning to visit relatives in the county. His many friends will be gratified to learn that he is doing well in medicine. He was accompanied by Mrs. Kinkaid.

THE steamer Handy No. 2 will commence Tuesday, July 3rd, making tri-weekly trips from Vanceburg to Cincinnati and will continue during the centennial, passing Maysville on her down trips on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays at 10 o'clock a. m. Returning will leave Cincinnati on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 5 o'clock p. m.

MRS. LAURA DIMMITT returned this morning from Richmond, where she attended the annual meeting of the Women's Board of Missions of the Kentucky Conference, M. E. Church, South. There were seventy-three delegates present during the session. The Board is in a prosperous condition, and is doing good work. Over $6,000 was raised the past year, most of which has been distributed among the various mission fields. The next annual meeting will be held at Carlisle.

A KENTUCKY girl is credited with contributing the following to leap year literature: "How loose round my waist were the clothes of my childhood as my doubled up corsets remind me with pain; the slips that I wore when I used to chop stove wood had more enjoyment than bustle and train; the bustle, I know, is a thing highly treasured by ladies built on the mocking bird style; but give me the garment with looseness unmeasured, the old Mother Hubbard, which weak men revile; the dear Mother Hubbard, the loose Mother Hubbard, the honored Mother Hubbard which beats any style."

It is rumored that Vanceburg at no distant day is to have a national bank. Our citizens have had the advantages of a first-class bank brought before them, but so far they have not become sufficiently convinced of its benefits to take stock in it. A number of wealthy men of Mt. Sterling, we are informed, think of taking stock and running the bank. We also hear it rumored that Hon. A. H. Parker, of this city, has been recommended to them, by one who is acquainted with his qualifications, for the presidency of the bank. Having had an extensive acquaintance with Mr. Parker, we are prepared to say that no more worthy man can be found in Kentucky. He possesses every requisite qualification for the important position. We will receive the gentlemen with open arms, and extend to them a willing hand to assist them in their laudable enterprise.—Vanceburg Times.

THE open meeting of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor was held in the Christian Church last evening. The house was comfortably filled with an attentive and appreciative audience. The recitation of the 19th Psalm by Miss May Finch was in clear, well-modulated tones, and distinctly heard in all parts of the room. The solo by Mr. Judd in splendid voice was a feature in the programme. The reading by Walter Cady of "He Leadeth Me" was blended nicely with the 24th Psalm and was excellent. The recitation by Charley Phist was a good selection and proved clearly the instruction received the past year in the society. The essay by Miss Belle Atherton entitled "Jesus, the Rock of My Salvation," deserves more than passing notice and was well received. At its close the entire audience joined in heartily singing that good old song, "Rock of Ages." The exercises were all interspersed with appropriate music. Rev. Walter S. Priest is pleased at the success of the society, and his faithful labors in behalf of the little ones have been amply repaid. A short, well-chosen address by the pastor closed the exercises.

FREDERICK GEBHARDT and Mrs. Lillie Langtry are to be married in September. This is definite and certain. They have long been betrothed, and public rumor has mated them, but Mrs. Langtry will not much before the time mentioned be legally free from her present husband. That has been the only reason why Gebhardt and the beautiful actress have not been wedded long ere this. Her husband refused several offers, made through the firm of Howe & Hummel, of portion of her wealth if he would consent to a separation. He declined all these propositions and took good care that she should not have the only ground valid in the State of New York on which to obtain a divorce. He is now a hotel-keeper at an English seaside resort, and it is five years since he and his wife have met. At length Mrs. Langtry, while in San Francisco last year, acquired real estate there, and made the city her legal residence. That now enables her to put forward a suit for divorce, and this will to a certainty make her a free woman in August. Any hitch in the proceedings will be entirely unexpected, and the couple are advised that none is possible.

Republican Assignment.

J. Hawthorne Hill made an assignment this morning to C. Schultz Leach of the newspaper and job printing establishment known as the Maysville Republican office. The assignment embraces all the assets of the Daily and Weekly Republican. It is not yet known what the liabilities are. THE BULLETIN hopes the financial embarrassment of its neighbor will be temporary and easily adjusted.

A. HONAN'S

SPECIAL CUT-PRICE SALE, FOR CASH, OF

Boots and Shoes.

Owing to the extremely backward season, I find that my Summer stock of Boots and Shoes is much larger than we care to have it, and have determined to reduce it, and to accomplish this end we will offer special inducements to cash buyers for the next sixty days. The stock consists of the very best brands of seasonable goods, in Ladies', Misses' and Children's fine, medium and low-priced goods, and the best and cheapest line of Men's and Boys' wear ever offered to the trade. This is no catch-penny business, but a genuine cut-price sale. The price on every pair of Shoes in the stock will be reduced. Don't fail to embrace this rare opportunity to buy good, honest Boots and Shoes at less money than they were ever offered in the history of the Maysville Shoe trade. Respectfully,

POLITICAL UNCERTAINTY.

R. G. DUN & COMPANY'S WEEKLY REVIEW OF TRADE.

A Decrease of 11 Per Cent. in Exchanges.
Favorable Reports From Interior Points.
Great Desire to Sell Pig Iron—Money Abundant Everywhere—Failures.

New York, June 25.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says:

The country is waiting, and the inaction in trade closely resembles midsummer dullness. Anxiety about crops has in a great measure abated. Financial uncertainties have but little present influence, because the narrowing industrial and commercial demands leave large accumulations unemployed at all financial centers. The political uncertainty engrosses attention.

The latest reports of exchanges show a decrease of 11 per cent. in the aggregate in comparison with last year, and a decrease of 7 per cent. outside of New York, with twenty-three outside of thirty-eight cities reporting a shrinkage. The shrinkage in volume of business is accompanied by a decline in prices of commodities generally, and an advance in prices of securities. Wheat, corn and oats have each declined about three and one-half cents. Lard has fallen thirty cents per one hundred pounds. Oil declined five cents, butter one-half cent, eggs one cent and coffee one-half cent; but cotton is three-sixteenths cents stronger. The general average of prices has declined during the week about three-quarters of 1 per cent.

Reports from interior points are uniformly favorable in tone, for the prospect is considered cheering, though at most points the present transactions are in decreasing volume. Money is nowhere in sharp demand.

Good crops give confidence as to the future, even where the inactivity is now most noticeable. Cotton goods are in steady but moderate demand; print cloths are strong at four cents for sixty-fours. Woolen goods are moderate, with prices ruling below last year's where foreign competition is felt. It is thought there is some improvement in the boot and shoe trade, and the movement is fairly good.

Just now the iron business has to be considered in connection with the recent improvement in the demand for securities. The stock market has advanced about $1.25 per share. Rail rates prevailing are low, and tend lower. The competition of water routes is severe, and the average lake rate for May, two and one-tenth cents per bushel, is the lowest on record, except in one year. Increasing anxiety to sell pig iron is noted. The Bethlehem furnaces have been banked, and the Pennsylvania steel works will stop for repairs in July.

Treasury disbursements in purchase of bonds and otherwise have exceeded receipts by about $5,000,000 for the week. Nevertheless, foreign trade continues in such shape that gold must go abroad largely unless the outward movement of securities continues unchecked. Money is everywhere in abundant supply, and it will doubtless be the policy of the treasury to prevent any stringency.

The business failures during the last seven days number, for the United States, 176; Canada, 28; total, 204, as compared with 283 last week, and 235 the week previous to the last.

PATRIARCHS MILITANT.

Third Annual Meeting of the Military Council at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, June 25.—Cincinnati is soon to be honored with the presence of one of the greatest secret military organizations in the world—The Patriarchs Militant of Independent Order of Odd Fellows, which holds its annual military council in this city during the week commencing Monday, July 23. The Patriarchs Militant is the highest degree of Odd Fellowship.

This branch of the order is comparatively young; the degree was written by ex-Governor J. C. Underwood, of Kentucky, and placed on the floor of the Sovereign Grand Lodge at Baltimore in September, 1885. Ex-Governor Underwood is lieutenant general of the army, being the highest officer in command. It is within the power of the lieutenant general to call the council wherever he sees fit. Buffalo asked for it, and backed its request by a $6,000 gift, but the liberal Queen City came to the front with a $12,000 package and won the day; $5,000 will be given in hand prizes.

Forty-two other prizes have been arranged for.

Some of the subscriptions are: Pettibone & Company, $500; Mabley & Carey, $400; banner, Peckheimer Brothers, $250; banner, Order of Cincinnati, $300 to the canton turning out the greatest number in the parade; Duhme, a $300 patriarch militant watch chain, set in diamonds.

The local lodges and encampments have raised $6,000 for entertaining the guests.

A grand triumphal arch will be erected over the street in front of the Odd Fellows' Temple at Fourth and Home that will surpass anything of the kind ever erected in the city. The Derby building, southeast corner Fourth and Elm, will be secured as headquarters for the army.

The Patriarch's Militant band, of Chicago, of forty-nine pieces, will be present. The members of the band are all of the military degree, and will appear in full uniform.

The council consists of field and staff officers, the lowest being a major.

The meeting will be held during the day and the evenings devoted to entertainment.

On the evenings of Tuesday and Wednesday, July 24 and 25, the grand decoration of chivalry will be conferred at the chamber of commerce. Friday night the local lodges and camps entertain the guests at the Highland house.

Thursday will be the day of the parade, which will consist of two divisions, the first army of the Patriarchs Militant under command of Gen. Underwood, and the second the Sovereign Grand lodge, other lodges, encampments and veteran Odd Fellows, under command of ex-County Treasurer Charles Miller, grand marshal. The procession will form on Race, right resting on Fourth displaying northward. Before the parade there will be a grand inspection and review before Gen. Underwood.

There are two kinds of men what tells stories. One talks ter 'muze you, de under talks ter 'muze hissef. It won't be hard fur you ter 'vide which one does de mos' talkin'.

Mrs. Dr. Canine, of Columbus, Ind., alleges that her husband leads her a cat and dog life, and prays for divorce.

Two persons were killed and one seriously injured in a collision on the Pennsylvania & Reading railroad, at Schuylkill Haven, Pennsylvania.

Frank Mueller, undertaker, of Portsmouth, O., got up in his sleep and embalmed himself by drinking carbolic acid used for that purpose. He will die.

Mr. Lynn's family, at Indianapolis, ate heartily of strawberries, and were taken violently ill. One child of ten years is dead, and an investigation is in order.

Two slick, smooth men calling themselves James Murray and Edward Goode are run in by the Louisville police on suspicion of being the persons who robbed a Cincinnati tobacco firm.

Charles Luther and Rose Hilling eloped from Cincinnati to Louisville, and the bride's father caught up with them just in time to bestow his blessing upon them in wedded bliss.

Joseph Hersony, aged twenty, of Mansfield, O., left his wife and departed for some land where he "could be his own boss." Lots of Ohio benedicts would like to learn his present address.

J. H. Iryer, a Millersburg, Ky., farmer, had a sick feeling in his stomach and threw up a little green frog. These Kentucky people with pollywog dressing are getting painfully numerous.

Mrs. Williamson, of Gallipolis, O., dropped an unstamped letter in the box, fought with the postmistress to get it back, and is arrested for exercising what was only a leap year privilege after all.

Alger, Allison, Harrison, Rush, Foraker, McKinley and Sherman are all Ohio men. The Chicago convention did not call in the aid of a botanist to find out that the Buckeye is a specimen of chestnut.

G. W. Goodfellow, wealthy mill owner of Aylmer, Ont., blew his brains out after his seventeen-year-old daughter had confessed to the authorities that she and her father had been criminally intimate for years.

George Carpenter, escaped New York forger, was found by the detectives in his father's home at Chillicothe, O. He was secreted in a hidden closet with sliding panels of the regulation stage, mysterious medieval variety.

At Norwalk, O., Frank Kennan, tramp, very full of liquor, drank a glass of water and fell dead. There is a moral in this incident somewhere, but its exact location will depend upon the party to which the moralizer belongs.

Miss Nora Holmes, of Findlay, O., clothed in a wrapper, hastily eloped and was married to J. Wesley Hill, Boston minister. She immediately started with J. Wesley to Salt Lake City, leaving unrecalled parents and all her wardrobe behind.

The fact that A. L. Scott, postmaster of Gugar, Ind., paid the government money, $35, which he appropriated, right back into Uncle Sam's treasury by settling his taxes with it doesn't save him from being bound over in the sum of $1,000 for further explanation.

WEAK NERVES

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND is a Nerve Tonic which never fails. Contains Celery and Coca, those wonderful nerve stimulants, it speedily cures all nervous disorders.

RHEUMATISM

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND purifies the blood. It drives out the lactic acid, which causes Rheumatism, and restores the blood-making organs to a healthy condition. It is the true remedy for Rheumatism.

KIDNEY COMPLAINTS

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND quickly restores the liver and kidneys to perfect health. This curative power, combined with its nerve tonic, makes it the best remedy for all kidney complaints.

DYSPEPSIA

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND strengthens the stomach, and quiets the nerves of the digestive organs. This is why it cures even the worst cases of Dyspepsia.

CONSTIPATION

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND is not a cathartic. It is a laxative, giving easy and natural action to the bowels. Regularity surely follows its use.
